Measuring sound levels during Schoolfest12.

The pupils of classes 2a2 and 2a3 (modern sciences) organised a school festival in May. It is the outcome of 4 months of hard work during science classes and economy classes.

During the festival it is important that consumers (participants and spectators) can listen to the music in a safe way.

There is a lot of controversy about the sound level regulations that our Flemish minister of health signed last month.

Our pupils decided to be very strict and they took these measures:

- Neighbours were informed about the rock festival.
- Every spectator and participant got free earplugs.
- The people of the P.A. were asked not to play louder than 100dB.
- The pupils measured the volume and wrote it down on a sheet of paper so the spectators were well informed.
